Genealogy of David Annis

OF

Hopkinton, and Bath, New Hampshire,

HIS ANCESTORS AND DESCENDANTS.

DAVID ANNIS' early history is very meagre. It is now quite well established that he was a son of Daniel of Warner, N. H. However, I think it essential to clear up some obscure points, and correct some errors that have been put into print. Ex-Gov. Harriman in his History of Warner, N. H., stated that Daniel Annis who settled in that town in 1762, "had not less than four sons and three daughters. The sons were, Daniel, Jr., Thomas, Moses, and Solomon, and the daughters were Hannah (Mrs. Kimball), Rachel, and Ruth." It was always understood among the children, and grandchildren, of David Annis, that he was the son of Daniel of Warner. I wrote to Ex-Gov. Harriman, before his death, stating that he had left my grandfather, David, out of the list of Daniel's children in his book, also stating the traditions existing in all the families of David's descendants. He replied that he thought I was correct, and that his history was not written to be an exact genealogical work, and that my claim that there was a David in Daniel's family was proven beyond controversy.

My mother used to relate to me her visit, with my grandmother, to Hopkinton, Warner, and New London, N. H., on horseback, to see her aunts, Kimball, Flood, and Watkins. She was named Rachel, after her aunt Rachel who married Daniel Flood. David Annis had a son named Nathaniel Flood, after a near relative of Rachel's husband, possibly a son.

An epitaph in an old grave yard, a few rods south of the "Narrows," in the town of Bath, N. H., reads as follows: "David Annis died August 18, 1824 aged 70 years." This places his birth in 1753 or 1754. From 1745 to 1757 Daniel Annis was living in Rumford, now (1909) Concord, N. H., on the east side of the Merrimack river, near the old Fort. It was there where David Annis was born. In 1757 Daniel Annis moved to Hopkinton, and from there to Warner, N. H., in 1762, where he died in 1790.

My mother has told me that her grandfather Annis married Keren Happuck Thomas. But the records state that he married Catherine Thomas. This discrepancy I leave for future genealogists to unravel.

I am unable to learn much of David's whereabouts up to 1777. The exact date of his marriage to Elizabeth Hunt is not yet definitely known. Family tradition says, his three oldest children were born in Warner as follows: Webster D., April 18, 1777; David, June 14, 1779; and Joseph D., April 22, 1782. Elizabeth, the fourth child, and the last of the first wife's children, family tradition says, was born in Hopkinton, N. H., Nov. 19, 1784. Soon after the birth of Elizabeth, David's first wife died, date unknown. Within a few months after his first wife's death, he married Lois Hunt, a cousin of his first wife, date unknown. Three children were born to them in Hopkinton: Asa, Feb. 4, 1786; Nathaniel Flood, Oct. 3, 1788; and Eunice, April 9, 1791.

In 1790 the first census of the United States, gives the name of David Annis as the head of a family, in Hopkinton, N. H., it also gives the right number in his family, but the numbers in the male and female columns are reversed. There were 5 males under the age of 16 years, and 2 females including the heads of the family in David's family in 1790, (the first David having died previous to taking the census), but the figures in the two columns became interchanged in the census report.

What time David Annis moved to Chelsea, Vt., is uncertain, but it must have been previous to the birth of Rachel, on June 27, 1793. In the records of the town of Chelsea, Vt., there were reported 8 children born "to David Annis and Lois his wife." No date is given to the report, not even dated when received, nor is there a name attached to it, other than that of the town clerk. We give an exact copy of the report in the second part of this work. Here is another error, Lois was not the mother of the first four children.

In May 12, 1794, Joseph Perkins sold a piece of land to David Annis of Chelsea, Vt., and on Feb. 27, 1797, sold the same to Elihu Hyde, Jr., giving his residence as Lebanon, N. H. The deed was not signed by his wife. It seems that he had previously moved to Lebanon with a view of settling there, and that the piece of land in Chelsea had ceased to be considered a homestead, not requiring his wife's signature. The date of his moving to Lebanon is not known. Was he the David, son of Daniel?

Some time in 1797 David Annis moved to Bath, N. H., where his son, Cummings S., was born that same year. Here he continued to reside until his death in 1824.

The name of Annis is spelled ten different ways in the Essex County records: Anes, Aness, Anies, Aniss, Annes, Annice, Annies, Annise, Anniss and Annis.

Curmac, alias Charles Annis, was born in Enniskillen, Ireland, in 1638, came to America, and was living in Newbury, Mass., in 1666. He married Sarah Chase May 15, 1666; died Dec. 19, 1717. She died before 1726.

They had eight children born to them in Newbury: Joseph, 1666. Abraham, Aug. 18, 1668. Aquilla, June 6, 1670; died April 17, 1672. Isaac, April 12, 1672. Sarah, married Orlando Bagley of Amesbury (published March 25, 1704); both were living in 1726. Priscilla, Nov. 8, 1677; married William Godfrey before 1706; both were living in 1726. Hannah, Nov. 15, 1679; married Ephraim Weed before 1706; both were living in 1726. Anne, Dec. 28, 1681; married George Worthen before 1706; they were living in 1726. "Hannah Annis of Newbury published to Thomas Worthen of Amesbury May 11, 1700."

Abraham², (Charles¹,) lived in Newbury until 1736. Moved to Haverhill in 1737. When the state line was run in 1741 his farm was brought into Salem, N. H. He married Hannah ———, before 1693-4, and had ten children born to them in Newbury: Charles, Feb. 10, 1693-4. Elizabeth, in 1695. Hannah, March 20, 1698; married Benjamin Rollins of Newbury Nov. 20, 1716. John, May 1, 1700. Stephen, Feb. 1, 1701-2. Sarah, Sept. 9, 1703. Abraham, March 4, 1708. Daniel, Dec. 1, 1711; married Catherine Thomas of Newbury Aug. 1, 1732; and probably lived in Methuen, yeoman, in 1741. [His grand-daughter Rachel Annis said her given name was Keren Happuck]. Tabitha, March 5, 1713; married Daniel Woodman of Newbury, March 9, 1737-8. Anne, June 21, 1715.

Daniel³, (Abraham², Charles¹,) of Warner, N. H.; born Dec. 1, 1711; died 1790. Married Catherine Thomas Aug. 1, 1732, and had the following children born to them: Solomon; Moses; Daniel, Jr.; David, 1753 or 1754; Thomas; Hannah, 1740, married, 1762, Reuben Kimball; Rachel, married Daniel Flood; Ruth, married Abner Watkins.

[I am greatly indebted to the Essex Antiquarian, and to Ex-Gov. Harriman's History of Warner, for many of the foregoing genealogical facts. Author].

His first wife died shortly after the birth of the last child, and he soon after married Lois Hunt, a cousin of his first wife. Letter from Miss Mattie Merrill, grand-daughter of Mrs. Lois (Annis) Merrill of East Albany, Vt., dated October 24, 1882. [This letter was partly dictated by her grandmother].

"We have often spoken of you although none of us have ever seen you except grandma. I am your uncle Samuel Merrill's grand-daughter, Ira's daughter. Pa came here from New York state fifteen years ago to take care of his father and mother. He then had three children, but about three years ago he buried his eldest child and only boy. It was a hard blow for us all. Ada and I are the only children remaining. Ma and Ada left home last week to spend the winter in our York state home. Ma has no relative in Vt. Uncle Charles Merrill, in Delaware, has not been home for many years, and we do not hear from him very often. Grandpa [Samuel Merrill] died May 16, 1877. Grandma is well, and is also very smart for her age. She will be 83 years of age on her next birthday. She prefers walking to riding, and will walk farther now than I can. Dr. Mason lives only about one mile from us, at South Albany."

Another letter was received from Mary Susana Merrill, dated November 11, 1882; a portion of which was dictated by her grandmother :

“Uncle Charles Merrill’s address is West Willington, Delaware. He is road-master on the railroad. Pa and uncle Charles are all the children she ever had. Our brother, Charles, suffered from the effects of the fall for a year and a half. He was a great sufferer the most of the time. He took a great amount of morphine.”

“I was born in Bath, N. H., June 20, 1800, and was married there December 16, 1824. Since marriage I have lived in Bath, N. H., Stannard and Albany, Vt. The births of my children are as follows: Ira D., in Bath, Sept. 23, 1825; Charles H., in Bath, July 17, 1827.”

“Grandfather Hunt died before I was born. My father’s first wife’s name was Elizabeth Hunt. My brother David Annis was a wanderer. My husband, Samuel Merrill, was born in Manchester, N. H., July 17, 1798. My sister, Mahitable Annis, Mrs. William Pollard, was born in Bath, N. H., August 22, 1802. Ira D. Merrill married Elizabeth Gaylor of Candor, Tioga Co., N. Y., Jan. 1, 1851. Their children were born as follows: Charles W. A., June 8, 1854; Mary S., Nov. 20, 1855; Ada S., Dec. 20, 1857; both unmarried. All three were born in our house in Candor, Tioga Co., N. Y.”

“Uncle Charles Merrill’s first wife’s name was Abbie Saxe, from Pennsylvania. They had three children: Lois and Rebecca, the third died young, I do not know its name. He is now living with his second wife in West Wilmington, Del.”

“Daniel Annis married Polly Kimball; he was a brother to David Annis. I think it was Nathaniel Flood whom your mother used to visit near Sunapee Lake, in New London, and Warner, N. H. He used to call my father uncle

David, but I do not know how it was. It was Solomon Annis, Daniel Annis' son who settled in Chelsea, Vt."

On May 28, 1883, H. S. Annis of Chelsea, Vt., writes: "My grandparents were from Lebanon, N. H. Came to this town, I think, in the spring of 1791. Their names: Solomon Annis, born Nov. 8, 1765, died July 31, 1830, and Susannah Bosworth, born Feb. 28, 1770, died Aug. 14, 1832. They were married March 22, 1791, and had ten children: James, Nancy, William, Jesse, Polly B., Susannah, Solomon, Solomon, Sally and Lydia. They all lived to have families except the seventh and tenth; they died young."

"Grandfather came on horseback, by marked trees, on to a farm I now own. He was killed on the same farm by falling from a load of hay and breaking his neck. My father, Solomon Annis, received injuries in the same way from which he died. Solomon Annis had 65 grandchildren, but only three are now living in town."

On Nov. 23, 1885, Mrs. Lois Annis Merrill of East Albany, Vt., dictated another letter to the writer by her grand-daughter, Mary Merrill: "Grandma is real well. Her health is very good and she is very smart for a lady of her age." [Dictation commences here.] My brother David Annis started from Bath, N. H., the last time he left home, in the spring of 1825. He was the fifth child, and there were three younger; Cummings, myself and Mahitable. There were about two years difference between their ages. "Grandma will be 86 years old the second day of next June. She was next to the youngest. [The children are mentioned in order of their birth]: Asa, Nathaniel, David, Eunice, Rachel, Cummings, Lois and Mahitable. They never knew where David went to, nor what became of him."

"They all went to school in the Smith district, excepting Asa and Nathaniel. All excepting those two attended school near Chamberlain's. Some of the teachers' names were: Thomas Dole, Rachel Dole, Henry Lang and William Lang."

[David Annis was scalded when quite young, and a portion of the skin, about one inch in diameter sloughed off, leaving a large scar. That piece of skin was saved and dried by his mother. Kept very choicely by her, until her death in 1844. She entertained the idea that as long as he lived it would not decay, but when he died it would commence to decompose and finally wither away. After her death this singular relic, with many other keepsakes were brought to my mother's in a round-top trunk covered with old-fashion, mottled wall paper. I mention this fact because it may be the means of establishing his genealogical relationship at some future time. J. M. C.]

Paine D. Annis of Warner, N. H., on Dec. 7, 1885, writes: "Thomas Annis [son of the first Daniel of Warner] had sixteen children, as near as we can find out. I have the names of fourteen: Stephen, Rodney, Thomas, Jefferson, Isaac, Bonaparte, Jacob, Moses, Sally, Betsey, Abigail, Ruth, Marion, Lizzy. Moses had five children, four boys and one girl; the girl died young and was named Harriett. The sons were: Moses, Larkin, Clifton and Hazen. Hazen had four sons: Charles, Henry, Hazen and Allen. Clifton had one son, Paine."

"Most all these families are dead. Moses, Jr., eldest son of Moses is living; he is 80 years old. He says he remembers of hearing his mother speak of Rachel Currier, but nothing definite."

T. W. Rand of Marshfield, Vt., on Feb. 4, 1886, writes: "My father lives on the very farm which David Annis used to own, and where he died. His youngest son, Chelis F. Annis took care of him, and had his property. This son sold out to my father after his father's death, and went to Oakamos, Mich., where he now resides. Chelis buried his father and mother in Dansville cemetery, Warner, and erected good marble headstones to their graves before he went to Oakamos, Mich."

"David Annis had a son who was drowned in Clement's Pond, Hopkinton, leaving a wife and two children; H. C. Annis of Coaticook, N. H., is one of them, and William of Oakamos, Mich., is another. He married his uncle Chelis F. Annis' daughter, Lizzie, and lives with them. David had another son besides Chelis and William, named Matthew David Annis, and lives in Warner, N. H.; if alive, and was the last visit I made there, which was 18 months ago. He married a Ferrin for his first wife, and a Rand for his second wife. If you would take the pains to write him he would tell you all about the Aunts Kimball and Floyd, (not Flood) you speak of for they were his father David's own sisters, [here he is mistaken], and lived near him in Warner. Mrs. Kimball had a son named Chelis, who married and had two children: Susan Jane, and Chelis F. Chelis F. died soon after his father, and Susan Jane had all the property. She is a rich old maid and resides in Warner village, and is a communicant at the Congregationl Church. You must write her, she has a great memory and many dates. She will tell you all about the Capt. Floyd family."

"I have the genealogy of the Currier family way back to the first settler in Amesbury, Mass.; also the Davis family, in my grandmother Rand's family line. This Paine Davis Annis is my third cousin; double by the way of the Currier and Davis equally combined; he was the son and only child of Clifton Clodgett Annis, who was the brother of Moses Gould Annis whom Paine was taking care of for his property when I was down there. His father's name was Moses, son of Thomas and brother of Daniel who was one of the first settlers of Warner." [Here seems to be another error. Daniel was the father of Thomas, not a brother. J. M. C].

Geo. H. Annis of Irasburgh, Vt., on Jan. 21, 1884, writes: "I was born in Chelsea, Vt., March 7, 1841. My father, James Annis was born Jan. 22, 1792. My mother, Merinda Parker was born Aug. 28, 1808. I married the 17th of March 1864. We moved away from Chelsea when I was only five years old, and my father died May 8, 1849. I went away from home to live then, and I knew but a little about my people. My mother died in 1861. Holton Annis of Chelsea, is a son of my uncle, Solomon Annis. I enlisted in Co. I, 15th Reg. Vt. Vols. We were not really in any battle, still we were brought into line as a support for a battery, and were under fire from five in the morning until about eleven a. m.; the order came for the smallest company in the regiment to fall back twenty-five miles to guard teams, etc., so it fell upon us."

"My children are as follows: Alex M., born Sept. 16, 1867; Elida F., born Jan. 31, 1873."

"My own brothers and sisters are as follows: Mary, born Dec. 3, 1842, died Feb. 3, 1852; Caroline P., born Oct. 18, 1845; Silas H., born Jan. 21, 1848. He was given away when two years old and had his name lawfully changed to Charles Duckles. I will give the names of my half brothers and sisters: Ira, Derias, Azro, Harvey, Celia, Betsey and Sally."

"I have found an old record that came into my possession some way which has the names of my grandparents: 'Solomon Annis born Nov. 8, 1765; Susannah Bosworth born Feb. 28, 1770.' I had a half sister who married a Bush and lived in Candiaville, N. H. There are Annises in Newburyport Mass., also in Baltimore, Md., and North Troy, Vt. Richard Annis lives in Mapleton, Blue Earth Co., Minn."

On January 29, 1884 Mr. Annis writes from East Albany, Vt., as follows: "I cannot give the name or death of my father's first wife. My father died May 8, 1849, aged 57 years, 3 months, 16 days."

"I will give you the dates of births and deaths of my half brothers and sisters: Ira, born July 12, 1816, died Oct. 10, 1882; Celia, born June 10, 1819; Betsey, born May 27, 1822, died ———; Darias, born Oct. 27, 1824; Azro, born Jan. 2, 1827; Sally, born May 17, 1829, died———; Harvey, born April 17, 1831. Silas Annis goes by the name of Duckles, and so do his children."

"My wife was Nellie E. Stils, born in Wolcott, Vt., Dec. 9, 1845."

"I think you might get some light in regard to my father's first wife by addressing Richard Annis, Mapleton, Blue Earth Co., Minn. He was a son of Ira Annis. Darias Annis' address is Minominee, Dunn Co., Wisconsin. William K. Annis, Jr., West Albany, Vt., is of another family, and quite a long string of them."

"There are Annises in Corinth, Vt. Holton Annis in Chelsea, Vt., also in Baltimore, Md. He accidently found my name while I was in the army and wrote to me to know who I was, my parents, etc., but I lost his name."

"I think Richard Annis could give you a very interesting history of Ira Annis, as he went to Minnesota in any early date. I think he was two hundred miles from any business; took a large track of land; suffered on account of the Indians, etc. But he became wealthy, and was the means of building a large village; establishing a Free Baptist Church of which he was a member until his death. Post office at Irasburgh, Vt."

On April 27, 1885, O. E. Annis of 778 Elm St., Manchester, N. H., writes: "Jesse Annis (my grandfather) moved from Londonderry, N. H., to Vermont as early as 1788 or 1790. His first wife I think was a Heath. I know of only one child by this marriage, a son, Joseph Annis, who, since my remembrance lived in Strafford, Vt. His second wife (Jessie Annis) was an Emerson. By this marriage, I think there were 13 children born: Thomas, Betsey, Polly, Pattie, Lydia, James, (my father) and William. There were two more sons and daughters, that lived in _____ and married, that I have forgotten their names. The other three, I think, must have died in their infancy, as I have never heard their names mentioned."

"Thomas settled in Buffalo, N. Y. Betsey married J. Morrill, settled in Corinth, Vt. Polly married Elijah Merrill, also settled in Corinth, Vt. Pattie married John Eastman, settled in Washington, Vt. Lydia married O. W. B. Eastman, dentist, their last residence was Corinth. My father's first wife, (James Annis) was Sally McKean. By this marriage were: Horace, married _____, Hopkinton, settled in Illinois; George, settled in Ohio; Jessie, settled in Ohio; James and Merrill died at the ages of 25 and 20; Marajet M.; married _____ Wason, settled in Wisconsin, died at the age of 68. His second wife's marriage (James) was with Betsey Eastman. By this marriage were two children: Sarah M., who married S. J. Folsom, resides now in Manchester, N. H., and Orrin E., (my name) now residing in Manchester, N. H. James Annis (my father), was born Sept. 15, 1792, died Dec. 9, 1874. His last wife (my mother) died April 22, 1885."

From Henry C. Carbie's letter of October 17, 1875: "The cow bell that belonged to your grandfather Annis is in my possession. Aunt Eunice gave it to me when she went to Lowell; it was at Sol. Carbee's, and she told Mary before she died when she came up to bury her remains to be sure and get the bell and give it to me. It is of no intrinsic value to me, only as a keepsake of the old lady, and I have no objection to your having it if you want it as a relic of your ancestors."

R. H. Marden of Fergus Falls, Minn., son of Joseph A., writes, on April 18, 1899: "My daughter Carrie died at her home in Omaha on the 8th day of March, 1899, after 16 hours of great suffering, of uremic poisoning. She left two boys, six and ten years of age. My father is still living at 88 years of age."

April 30, 1889, the following facts were obtained of George Newell Annis of Northfield, Vt.: "He was a son of William F. Annis who lived and died in Stanstead, Canada. He was born April 2, 1843; married Sarah Ann Woodbury of Bradford, Vt. He has two daughters, Ora Estell, and Maud Bessey; two sons died young."

On May 31, 1889 I obtained the following genealogy of Hiram Berty Annis, then living in Newport, Vt.: "He was a son of Josiah Annis of Colebrook, N. H.; born in Albany, Vt., Feb. 23, 1855; a grandson of Webster D. Annis and Lucinda Hunt. His mother was Mary J. Reynolds of Barnet, Vt. He has had two brothers and four sisters, viz: Olive, Diana Arthelia, himself, Rosilla Elmira, Ellsworth Josiah, and Alva Herbert. Two are now dead (1889), Diana A. and Rosilla E. His father moved to Colebrook, N. H., in April 1871, from Albany. He married Clara French Hacket of Barre, Vt., (born Aug. 17, 1854.) One child, Nellie Mary, was born in Stanstead, Feb. 13, 1836."

October 28, 1889, Wm. Kimball Annis of Albany, Vt., gave me the following genealogy of his family: "My father's full name is William Kimball Annis. I was born in Randolph, Vt., Feb. 19, 1844. My father was born in Tunbridge, Vt., April 4, 1820. My grandfather's name was Moses Annis. My brother, Elwin Lee Annis, was born May 18, 1855. I was married in Albany, Vt., May 31, 1865. I have no children."

On Feb. 18, 1891, W. K. Annis, Jr., of Albany, Vt., gave me family facts as follows: "The only sister I ever had died Jan. or Feb. 1864, aged about 4 years. Her name was Lanora Ella. My wife's name was Hattie Sprague Adams. She was born April 22, 1844. My father's brothers were: Isaac, Jonathan, Solomon, Ephraim, Moses and Aaron. Father was next to the youngest of the brothers. His sisters were, Lucy, Mary, Marilla and Martha."

On Feb. 15, 1896, Mrs. Luther B. Pollard of Bath, N. H., (now Monroe) writes: "Grandmother Annis (wife of David Annis) died in the town of Ryegate, Vt., in the summer of 1844. Luther thinks she was born in Hopkinton, N. H."

October 2, 1904, Miss Lucetta Tyler of Stoneham, Mass., writes: "I am the youngest sister of Laban Tyler. He moved to Michigan from here nearly 40 years ago. They had four sons only. Elizabeth (his first wife), died there. After that Laban moved to Lynn, Mass.; married, and has buried his second wife. He is now with his youngest son. His son moved into his house and they care for him. Laban will be 85 in January. He is not able to do much, and has been losing his memory for several years, and is quite a care."

"I think if you would write to his oldest son you might learn something about the family. His address is Ezra Tyler, Muskegan, Michigan."

"When I visited Paw Paw, Michigan, I met a Mrs. Janes who was a Marden. I cannot tell you sure but think her father was Clifton. Mrs. Janes died two years ago, but she had daughters. My nephew, Harry Howe married Rosilla. She would be more likely to know more about the family than any one I know. Her address is Fernwood, Chicago."

"Hannah Tyler whose name you saw (in the Woodsville News) is the daughter of my brother Charles of Benton. She has lived with me since she was 15, and is now 45. We keep house and do dressmaking.

"Mrs. Perley Annis is living near me. She kindly gave me Ruth's address. She is the only one left of the family."

"Mrs. Howe's address is: Rosilla J. Howe, 10219 Lawe Ave., Fernwood, Illinois."

Mrs. Eliza E. Annis, second wife of Perley M. Annis of Stoneham, Mass., on Oct. 11, 1904, writes: "Mr. [Perley M.] Annis died Dec. 3, 1898 in Stoneham, Mass., from apoplexy, aged 77. His children were: Ruth Jane, lived in Bethlehem, Penn., married Alvin Hill, died in 1888. Elbridge Mason, lives in Pittsfield, Mass.; married twice, last wife, Miss Hattie Gordan. Gilman Robert, died in Stoneham, Mass., in 1877, not married; Rosilla Eastman, lives at 18 Summer Street, Wakefield, Mass., married Charles W. Parsons. William Perley, lives at 6 Avon Street, Stoneham, Mass., married Miss Lillian Batchelder. Augustus Coburn, died in Stoneham, Mass., 1901, not married. Nellie May, lives in Bethlehem, Penn., married Dr. Burkhart. Charles Andrew, lives at 54 Pleasant St., Stoneham, Mass., married Bessie Jennie Cheever. Bertha, lives at 45 Pleasant St., Stoneham, Mass., married Leon H. Young."

"Mrs. Rosilla Annis (Perley's first wife from Benton, N. H.,) died Nov. 1866. He married me May 7, 1868. My maiden name was Eliza E. Hall. Charles and Bertha are my children, and the rest were by the first wife."

On Oct. 20, 1904, Mrs. Ruth Morse of Lynn, Mass., daughter of Joseph Annis, once a resident of Benton, N. H., writes: "I am living with my daughter. I fell down stairs about 10 years ago and broke my hip. I have to use crutches all the time."

"I cannot give you the dates of the deaths of my brothers and sisters, but can give places: Perley died in Stoneham. Cummings died in Haverhill, N. H.; Mary, William and Rachel died in Groton, Vt., so did Gardner. Samuel died in Benton, N. H., Betsey, in West Compton, N. H. I am the only one living out of our large family. My daughter's name is Lilla Emery."

In the Heads of Families, First Census of the United States 1790, of New Hampshire, page 43, we find that David Annis appears as a resident of Hopkinton. There was one male of 16 years and upwards; there were two males under 16 years, and five females. These figures correspond as to the total number in my grandfather's, David Annis' family, but the figures seem to have been reversed or misplaced. In his family there was himself, wife, one daughter and four sons, all under 16 years, except himself and wife. [John M. Currier].

On March 3, 1908, H. S. Annis of Chelsea, Vt., writes me that "on looking over our land records I find Joseph Perkins sold a piece of land to David Anais, May 12, 1794, and sold the same to Elihu Hyde, June 1797. Could find no records of births any farther back of 1825." (The sale to Elihu Hyde was Feb. 27, 1797. J. M. Currier).

The following facts were obtained from Miss Mattie Merrill of Manchester, N. H.: "Ira Merrill was born Sept. 23, 1825, died July 18, 1905; married Elizabeth Gaylor, born Jan. 21, 1826, died Dec. 17, 1907. Their daughter, Ada married Ralph Waldo Giltner, and had one daughter, Dorothy Fay, born Feb. 7, 1894."

Extracts from C. C. Lord's letter of August 22, 1908, of Hopkinton, N. H.: "In answer to your letter of the 28th instant, I will say that Daniel and John Annis were early residents of Hopkinton. I have no present knowledge of any David Annis as once living here. Daniel Annis moved to Warner where he died in 1790."

"I will further say that I have no record that the Daniel that moved to Warner ever had a son David, but possibly he had, as one of his sons is said to have been Daniel."

On Feb. 10, 1909, W. P. Townsend, town clerk of Chelsea, Vt., writes: "I find on record in this office where David Annis sold his place to Elisha Hyde, Jr., but the deed was not signed by his wife. It was dated at Lebanon, N. H., Feb. 27, 1797, and received for record, May 18, 1797."

[It is evident that H. S. Annis was not very thorough in his examination of the Chelsea records. J. M. C.]

James O. Lyford, on Jan. 27, 1909, writes from Boston: "I examined the records of births in Concord, (N. H.) since the beginning. During the early years the records were imperfect. I did not find David Annis, or in fact, any Annis, as born in the years 1753, 1754 or 1755, or even at an immediately later date."

"Bouton's History of Concord, which precedes ours, starting with the beginning of the town and running to 1853, confirms what you have said in regard to Daniel Annis. He was in the garrison around the house of Ebenezer Eastman on the east side of the river with his family in 1746. He was also a petitioner to the Provincial Government from Rumford (Concord) Jan. 2, 1747-8."

H. S. Annis of Chelsea, Vt., on Oct. 14, 1908, writes: "To-day I have looked our town records over again. David Annis gave his residence, in 1794, in Chelsea, Vt., and of course the same in 1797. I could find no tax list further back than 1808." [The town clerk of Chelsea seemed to be more careful in examining the records, and gave David Annis' residence as Lebanon, N. H. J. M. C.]

George H. Scribner, town clerk of Andover, N. H., on Feb. 3, 1909, writes: "I do not find the name of LeCont on the town books, but there were Annisses that used to live in this town. William Annis lived and died in the east part of the town, probably forty years ago or more. Andover has no completed history. Prof. J. R. Eastman is writing up one."

On October 11, 1800, Benj. Smith, husbandman, of Bath, N. H., for three hundred dollars, deeded to David Annis, Gentleman, of Bath, about one hundred acres of land in Bath, "lying between land owned by sd. Annis & Joseph Smith being the land on which I now live and have made improvements." In presence of Stephen Bartlett and Bela Turner. Acknowledged before Jeremiah Hutchins, J. P., Oct. 10, 1800.

[It will be seen that David Annis owned land in Bath, which is referred to in this deed, and which he was then living, but I have been unable to find that deed recorded in the Grafton County records. John M. Currier.]

On July 19, 1814, Asa Porter, Esquire, of Haverhill, quit claimed all the right and title that he, or Col. Moody Bedle, then had to a tract of common land in Bath, for fifty dollars, to David Annis of Bath. In the presence of M. Porter and Andrew S. Crocker in Haverhill. Acknowledged before Andrew S. Crocker, J. P. Recorded by Ephraim Kingsbury, Regr., July 21, 1814.

On July 19, 1814, Samuel Minot, Gentleman, of Bath, N. H., quit-claimed, for fifty dollars, a tract of land bounded on the west by Connecticut river, to David Annis of Bath. In presence of M. Porter and Andrew S. Crocker. Acknowledged before Andrew S. Crocker, J. P. Recorded July 21, 1814 by Ephraim Kingsbury, Regr.

On September 12, 1817, Joseph Annis, yeoman, of Bath, N. H., for the sum of Eight Hundred Dollars, deeded to David Annis, yeoman, of Bath, a certain tract of land lying in the town of Bath, "being part of what is called the Governor's farm and of the common land in said Bath, butted and bounded as follows: Beginning at a white pine tree, on the bank of Connecticut River below what is called Farwell bar, which is a corner of Asa Annis' land, thence running Easterly one hundred and four rods to a white oak tree marked thence on an easterly line forty rods to a white oak tree marked, and a pile of stones about it at the foot of a ledge, thence following said ledge about the same course to an oak tree marked with an Ex, then running northwesterly to a stake and stones on the Westerly line of the Governor's Lot, thence running a South-Westerly course to a stake and stones on the East side of the road that goes by the narrows, thence a Southerly course across said road to a white birch tree marked thence running to an Elm tree at what is called the lower Eddy below the Saddle, thence following Connecticut River to the first mentioned bounds." This deed was witnessed by Timoy Buck and Amasa Buck. It was acknowledged before Amasa Buck, J. P. It was recorded April 13, 1819 by Ephraim Kingsbury, Regr.

[Betsey Annis, Joseph Annis' wife, is mentioned in the deed, but she did not sign it. J. M. Currier.]

On Nov. 12, 1895, Geo. H. Kendall, Regr., writes: "There is also on record a mortgage from David A. Ordway to David Annis, given March 22, 1819, received April 13, 1819. Consideration $200. Land situated in Bath. Not discharged."

I have had considerable correspondence since 1895 with Alonzo L. Annis who is gathering up genealogical facts about the Annis Family in New England, in a general history, which is too voluminous, and even conflicting, to publish in full. From this correspondence I shall print only well ascertained facts and extracts:

"Eliza, eldest daughter of Joseph D. Annis, was married to David Fuller of Nashua, N. H. She is now (1895) a widow, without children, residing at the Old Ladies' Home at Nashua, N. H."

"Rachel Annis, daughter of Joseph D. Annis, born in Bath, N. H., was married, by John H. Carbee, J. P., at Bath, Feb. 19, 1835, to Gideon C. Howard of Bath." They lived together but a comparatively short time and after the separation she resumed her maiden name. They had only one child, a son named Charles, who died in the army. She went south and brought the remains to Stoneham, Mass. She died at Groton, Vt., March 13, 1891, and is buried at Stoneham, Mass. Her son went by the name of Charles Annis.

"Mary H. Annis, daughter of Joseph D., was married at Groton, Vt., June 7, 1888, to Simon Emery of Groton."

"Children born to David Annis and Elizabeth Hunt: Webster Davis, April 18, 1777; David, June 14, 1779; Joseph D., April 22, 1782; and Elizabeth, Nov. 9, 1784." Soon after the birth of the last child Mrs. Annis died and David Annis married Lois Hunt, his first wife's cousin; by her he had a son also named David. It was often done in those days if one child died young to name another subsequent one the same name. Therefore we would infer that the first David died, not over ten years of age.

On Sept. 30, 1895, Alonzo L. Annis writes: "Moses Annis, brother of Daniel, Jr., never married, and therefore left no children. Both Thomas and Solomon had large families, and their descendants are very numerous."

Alonzo L. Annis, on Dec. 30, 1895, writes: "The fact is established without doubt that David Annis was a son of Daniel Annis of Warner, N. H., and there is no doubt in my mind that Daniel Annis who married Polly Kimball, was the son of this same Daniel of Warner. This is the first clue I have had as to whom he married."

He further writes, on June 18, 1902: "You wrote me that you never heard that David, son of David, Sen., had a son by the name of David by his first wife, Elizabeth Hunt. The David Annis whom I had assigned to that position was born June 14, 1779. I do not know where, nor where he afterwards lived. He was married to Abigail Bruce. I do not know where, nor who her parents were, nor where they lived." [This matter is cleared up by the Chelsea Records. J. M. C.]

"They had, according to my records, three children: I, Maria, born 1838, at Randolph, Vt. She married 1st, ——— Foster. Married 2nd, by Sprague Arnold, J. P., at Randolph, Vt., Jan. 11, 1867, to Lorenzo Bennett (his 2nd marriage,) age 57, butcher, son of Elijah Bennett and Judith ———, born ——— at Randolph, Vt."

"II, Ellen, born 1843, at Randolph, Vt., married 1st, ——— Raymore; married 2nd, by Rev. Wellington Stearns, at West Randolph, Vt., March 27, 1871, to Stephen W. Young, of Braintree, Vt., (age 32,) farmer, son of Stephen W. Young and Mary (Hicks,) born ———. Ellen (Annis) was living at Braintree at time of her 2nd marriage. Commenting on this I have the following written in my book: 'The following from Vermont Records,' Fannie Blanch Young, born Nov. 18, 1877 at Braintree, Vt., daughter of Stephen W. Young and Mary (Annis.) It is quite likely her name was Mary Ellen, and this Mary (Annis) Young is none other than Ellen (Raymore) nee Annis Young.'

"III, Orra F. Annis, born ——— 1850 at Winchester, N. H., married, by E. M. Spaulding, J. P., at Roxbury, Vt., Oct. 4, 1870, to Sylvander Cole (age 21,) farmer, son of Nathaniel Cole, and Mary ———, born ——— at Highgate, N. H. Both Orra F. and Sylvander were of Braintree. Cole children: Myrtie G., born in Albany, Vt., Dec. 5, 1886; Male, born, Braintree, Dec. 9, 1877; Henry O., born, Braintree, June 4, 1871; Florence, born, Braintree, Sept. 5, 1873."

[The above David, born June 14, 1779, was not the father of the foregoing family. I am unable to connect this family with the Warner or Hopkinton Annis family, but I insert it here because it may aid some future genealogist in locating it in the proper line. John M. Currier.]

On Nov. 8, 1906, Alonzo L. Annis writes: "Mr. Miller also writes: I had a cousin, Jack Randall of Newbury, Vt., who married an Annis girl from Groton, Vt., years ago, and lived on Jefferson Hill, Newbury, a short time when she died. This fall when I was peddling early apples in South Ryegate, I sold some to Mrs. Moses Annis. She told me her husband was formerly from Groton, Vt., and was a brother to Jack Randall's wife. He is now a section hand on the Montpelier and Wells River Railroad."

"The Moses Annis referred to is Moses Silas Annis (son of Gardner,) born at Woodstock, N. H., Dec. 6, 1854, married 1st, to Ardelia Carpenter. Married 2nd, March 6, 1884, at Groton, Vt., by Rev. John Evans, to Elsie P. Ross of Maidstone, Vt., (age 17,) daughter of Sumner and Persis M. Ross. She was born in Hereford, P. Q."

"Betsey Jane Annis was a sister of Moses Silas Annis, born Jan. 10, 1857, in Woodstock, N. H., and died Sept. 21, 1885, a year and a half after her marriage, of heart disease. She was married at Wells River (Newbury) on March 3, 1884, by Rev. E. J. Ranslow, to Jackson B. Randall of Newbury, (age 33,) son of John and Elvira (Gardner) Randall."

[Lois (Hunt) Annis, second wife of David Annis of Bath, N. H., died at Kelsea Moore's in Ryegate, Vt., in July 1844. John M. Currier.]

On Dec. 28, 1908, A. L. Annis, then residing at Tacoma, Wash., writes: "A number of years ago an old gentleman by the name of C. E. Davis, who made his headquarters at Boston, obtained a great deal of information for me. At one time I sent him on a journey through Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts.”

“Daniel Annis³ of Warner, N. H., (Abraham², Charles¹) was married by Rev. Jno. Tufts, August 1, 1732, to Catherine (may have been Katherine or Catherine) Thomas.* So far as can be ascertained, they had five sons and three daughters: Daniel Jr., born, probably, about 1832; Thomas, was buried in Warner, N. H., married Sarah Smith Remox (probably Remick) in Warner, July 28, 1774, both of Almsbury. Married by Rev. William Kelley. Had fifteen children. Moses, born about 1736. Never married. Died before 1790. Solomon, married Aug. 27, 1769, by Nathan Jones, J. P., at Gouldsbo, Lincoln county, to Elizabeth Wamaghan (Anglicised Wright. See Bangor History Mag. Vol. 4, p. 140). They had six children. David, born probably 1754. Hannah, born about 1738. Married Reuben Kimball, who was born in 1738. Rachel, born about 1742. Married Daniel Flood. Ruth, born about 1744, married Abner Watkins.”

“I have quite an extended record of the families of Thomas and Solomon. As near as I can determine, Solomon spelled his name “Annas.” This Solomon had six sons and one daughter. The daughter, Sarah, was born July 4, 1770, and was married Feb. 27, 1800, by Rev. Wm. Kelley, at Warner, to John Gould, who was born in Warner. They are said to have removed to Enfield, N. H.”

“The sons of Solomon Annas were: David, born Oct. 17, 1772, died March 30, 1848. Solomon, Jr., born April 13, 1777. James, born Nov. 3, 1779. Benjamin, born

*My mother, Rachel (Annis) Currier, has told me several times that her father's mother's maiden name was Keren-happuch Thomas. J. M. C.

July 11, 1782. Isaac, born March 25, 1785.”

On May 3, 1909, E. J. Copp, Register of Probate of Hillsborough County, Nashua, N. H., writes: “I find the name of Daniel Annis late of Warner, but find only one paper on file, the bond of Thomas Annis, administrator who was appointed Aug. 26, 1790. This is all the information the records furnish.”

Edward Miller, town clerk of Ryegate, Vt., on Nov. 3, 1895, writes: “In the town records of Ryegate, March 5, 1844, the town paupers were set up and sold to the lowest bidder. In the Records 26th, Mrs. Annis to William Polard one year for $100. No other record about her, either before or after.”

On April 22, 1909, Mr. F. G. Floyd of West Roxbury, Mass., writes: “I note what you say regarding Daniel Flood, now do not get Flood and Floyd confused. The names are entirely distinct. Flood is an English family name and Floyd is derived from Lloyd, which is a Welsh family name, pronounced as though spelled Cloyd in Welsh (very guttural). It is a common thing for names to change the first letter that way as you probably know, particularly when a foreign name becomes anglicised.”

On April 26, 1909, Calvin H. Wood, Register of Deeds, Hillsborough County, Nashua, N. H., writes: “I can not find David Annis’ name upon the Index from 1771-1799.”

On April 23, 1909, Samuel N. Brown, Register of Deeds, Merrimack County, Concord, N. H., writes: “There are a few deeds to David Annis of land in Hopkinton dated between 1813 and 1825." [This David Annis is not in all probability, the son of Daniel of Warner, who married Lois Hunt. J. M. C.]

On March 15, 1909, Charles S. Marden of Barnesville, Minn., writes: "Recently I attempted to make application for membership in the Vermont Society at Minneapolis, Minn., and they requested me to file an ancestral chart, showing the birth of myself and ancestors in the State of Vermont. I succeeded on my father's side."

"My father, Riley H. Marden was born Jan. 24, 1831, son of Joseph A. Marden, born Feb. 19, 1811, and Lucy W. Annis, born Dec. 29, 1806, said Joseph A. Marden being the son of Edward Marden and Elizabeth Annis. This Elizabeth Annis was a sister of Sam. Currier's wife."

"I have examined the record in the State Historical Society at St. Paul, and find that Edward Marden who was born in 1751, served in Capt. Jonathan Barnes' Company of Col. Jonathan Warner's Regiment of Minute Men, on call of April 19, 1775 for nine days; that he afterwards enlisted Dec. 30, 1776 in Major Benjamin Whitcomb's Corps of New Hampshire Rangers and served until some time in 1779, when he enlisted in the 9th Co. 2nd Regiment, N. H. Continental Soldiers, Capt. Moody Dustin, and Col. Henry Dearborn, and served until June 1783. He was pensioned on April 9, 1818, under Act of Congress of March 1818, and was 67 years old at the date of his application. He died March 16, 1835, at Lyman, N. H."

"In 1820 this Edward Mardin had a wife who was 40 years old. The name of his wife is not given. They had a son with a family but his name is not given. This same Edward Mardin on May 27, 1831, was married to Chloe Barnes, at Lyme, N. H., and this woman applied for a pension March 15, 1853, when she was 66 years of age, and was a resident of Lyman, N. H. She was alive in 1858. I have heard father mention this woman as being the widow of his great grandfather."

"My mother's mother was Caroline Pearson. I am quite certain that my grandfather Clifford's people served in the Revolutionary War from New Hampshire, and also served in the War of 1812."

"I have lived here at Barnesville for about eighteen years. My family consists of two daughters. Irene is 22 years old, and is a junior at the University of Minnesota, and Edith will be 20 years old next month. She will graduate this year from the musical department of Carleton College at Northfield, Minn."

On March 31, 1909, Chas. S. Marden further writes: "The statistics of the State of New Hampshire show that Edward Marden, Jr., was married to Elizabeth Annis, by Amasa Buck, J. P., at Bath, N. H., Nov. 17, 1808. There was an Edward Mardin who had lived at Bath, N. H., before that date, and in 1820 he made a report to the Pension Department at Washington that he had a son who was married and had a family. He only claimed to have one son at that time, and he said his son was living at Lyman, N. H. I am quite certain that Edward Marden, Jr., was a son of this Edward Mardin. "Junior" would indicate that."

On April 14, 1909, Chas. S. Marden further writes: "My sister Carrie died March 8, 1899. Her children are as follows: Wallace Clifford Hooper, born March 9, 1893, Omaha, Neb.; William Riley Hooper, born Jan. 19, 1899, Omaha, Neb. My brother-in-law is William A. Hooper, Omaha, Neb., born June 1, 1866, at Belle Plains, Minnesota."

On April 19, 1909, Chas. S. Marden writes: "My step-mother died at Fergus Falls, Minnesota, in 1903." [Mrs.

R. H. Marden, the second wife is the one referred to. J. M. C.]

On May 7, 1909, Chas. S. Marden gives his own family records as follows: "Chas. S. Marden married on Jan. 2, 1886, to Elise Euphrasia Cayo, born April 15, 1863 at Two Rivers, Wis. They had two daughters born at Elizabeth, Minnesota: Irene Emily, Nov. 25, 1886; Edith, April 22, 1888. Mrs. Marden was a daughter of Joseph Cayo, from Canada. He died six months after her birth. Her mother's maiden name was Elise L. Darbellary, from Canton, Valois, Switzerland. The great, great grandfather Darbellary was a Noble, and Superior Judge, during Napoleon's administration."

Mrs. Jennie Douglass, second wife of George Douglass, writes on April 18, 1909: "Our P. O. address is South Fairlee, Vt., the name of our railroad station is Ely."

"The following are the names and dates of births of Mr. George Douglass' children by his first wife: Glenn W., Aug. 10, 1885; Lucy M., March 14, 1890; Lee P., April 11, 1892; Cecil J., Dec. 9, 1895; Esther A., Sept. 19, 1897; Eldred A., June 14, 1900."

On May 19, 1909, W. F. Smith, town clerk of Lebanon, N. H., writes: "Our old records are very imperfect, and particularly prior to 1800, very catchy and mixed. The only time I find the name of Annis before 1800, is 'Solomon Annis and Susanna Bosworth married March 24, 1791,' which I find in Book 2, page 69."

"I find one Michael, taxed on 4 acres of plowing, 1 acre pasturing several years beginning with 1801. We do not seem to have any invoice record before 1797."

"I do not find any other Annis in such old indexes as we have. It would seem David Annis could not have lived here very long.''

A true Copy, attest Elihu Hyde T. Clk.

I hereby certify that the above is a true copy as it appears on record in this office in Book of Records of Marriages, Births and Deaths, up to 1832, Recorded on page 33 of said Book.

W. P. Townsend, Town Clerk, Chelsea Town Clerks Office May 20th 1909.

Mr. Currier Dear Sir I have given you above the exact copy, no date given when it was done or who authorized it to be recorded Yours truly W. P. Townsend.

[The above record of David Annis' children was found in the town clerk's office at Chelsea, Vt. The first four children were by his first wife, Elizabeth Hunt. How this error came to be made I am unable to explain. David

Annis' second wife was, I was always informed, Lois Hunt, and was a cousin of his first wife. These facts were well known among all of the relatives. Joseph, in the above record should be Joseph Davis. Nathaniel, should be Nathaniel Flood, named after his cousin. David, the second child of David, must have died young, for he had another son by his second wife by the name of David, and his sister Lois informed me that "he was the fifth child and that there were three younger." The second David was born about 1795. It was quite a usual custom in those days to name a younger child after an older one who had died previously. The three children younger than the second David, referred to were, Cummings, Lois and Mahitable.—John M. Currier.]

On the 8th of Sept., 1757, the proprietors of Hopkinton voted that Daniel Annis with four others be a committee to make provision for the ordination of Mr. Scales, the first minister of the town.

On Nov. 1762, "an instrument certifying the actual settlement and occupation of township No. five under the privileges of the Mason grant" was signed by a large number of claimers, among them were David and John Annis.

On January 2, 1748, a petition to Governor Benning Wentworth, desiring military assistance, after an Indian raid in Hopkinton, was signed by Daniel Annis and five others.

The military records of colonial New Hampshire during the French wars contain among others the name of John Annis.

Daniel and John Annis were brothers. They were in Bradford, Mass., as early as 1740.

In the spring of 1762 Daniel Annis, and Reuben Kimball, his son-in-law, settled in Warner. They came from Hopkinton.

Daniel Annis had not been in Hopkinton more than 5 or 6 years when he came to Warner.

About 1745 Daniel Annis disposed of his property in Bradford and moved to Concord, N. H. He settled on the east side of the Merrimack near the village of East Concord. He was assigned "to the garrison near Capt. Ebenezer Eastman's" with others in 1746.

Daniel Annis moved to Hopkinton in about 1757.

Hannah Annis Kimball was born in 1740, in Bradford, Mass.

In 1746 Daniel Annis was one of the garrison stationed on the east side of the Merrimack River in Rumford (now Concord, N. H.) under Captain Ebenezer Eastman, near the site of the present Railroad Station.

was a soldier in the war of the Revolution and was captain in the campaign in 1777.”

The Rev. Rufus Emery, of Newburyport, Mass., on August 31, 1909, kindly sent to me the following facts relating to the Annis Family: “In 1711 a mission of the Church of England was formed in Newbury. I have recently examined the Record book of this mission. The name of Annis is frequently found in this record. Under April 15, 1718, a Mr. Annis is mentioned as one of a committee to examine the accounts of that mission.”

"From Newbury Records: Abraham Annis, May 13, 1718, is granted by the town of Newbury liberty to use the flats near Hall's rock on condition one salmon per year is given to the new pastor of the town."

"In 1708 A. Annis was a member of a company in His Majesty's service, under the command of Lieut. Moody, for service in the avant Amesbury. He entered the service Aug. 11, and served till Aug. 31, Three weeks. His wages were 18 shillings. Isaac Annis was in this company. Recent correspondence with Mrs. Augusta Gilbert of Lyme, N. H., furnishes the following facts relating to the family history of her father, Josiah Chamberlin: Mahitable Boadicea, daughter of Nathaniel Flood Annis⁵, (David⁴, Daniel³, Abraham², Charles¹,) was born in Bath, N. H., August 14, 1818; died in Newbury, July 13, 1855; married Josiah Chamberlin of Newbury, Vt., where all of their children were born, as follows:

Y.; Edith Adele, born April 9, 1882, in Fredonia, Chautauqua County, N. Y.; Harold Linwood, born June 21, 1891, in Fredonia, N. Y.

THE "NARROWS" GRAVE-YARD IN WEST BATH, N. H. The south end of Gardner's Mountain in West Bath, ends very abruptly. Between this mountain and the Connecticut river for many rods, is built the public high-way; and in several places there is only room enough for one team to pass, and so narrow that two teams cannot meet and pass each other. A ledge of rocks extends from the precipitous mountain that rises several hundred feet perpendicularly, westward into the Connecticut river, so near the western shore that the waters rush very swiftly through the narrow channel. The whole scenery is very picturesque, and gave to the locality the name of "Narrows." It is noted throughout New England. It was near this place that Glazier Wheeler lived and operated in counterfeit money, whose name was coupled with Stephen Burroughs, in the early settlement of the town.

From twenty to thirty rods south of the foot of Gardner's mountain there is a strip of very rich tillable land; on this strip of land, high up above the main road, stood a framed house, occupied in early times by the various owners of the land, and several of them were members of the Annis family. South of this fertile strip a ledge of rocks rises from six to fifteen feet above the level of the land. South of this low outcrop of rocks extends for several rods almost a level bluff of land without any stones. This plot of land was used as a grave yard by the early settlers in that vicinity. There were only a few headstones that marked the graves. Moses Abbott, commonly called "Grub" Abbott, bought the farm about 1851 or a little later, dug up the headstones and threw them heartlessly upon the adjoining ledge; and tilled the land so sacred to the early settlers, who had nearly all passed from memory. Now (1909), the same locality has been sold to the brick-makers for the purpose of working the bluff into bricks. If New Hampshire is going to allow her cemeteries to be sold off for brick yards and the remains of the early settlers used in making brick, then all I have to say is, I know of no better material for making bricks than the Farmans, Annises, and Curriers.

The following persons are known to have been buried in that rural grave yard: John Foreman, who settled in Bath in 1771 and died there in 1792; an interesting sketch of him is given in the History of Newbury by F. P. Wells; David Annis, who died August 18, 1824; Ezra Currier, who died March 23, 1825; his wife, Ruth Currier, who died September 25, 1834, a young Abbott boy; and a riverman by the name of Dustin from Canada, who was drown in the Connecticut river in the eddy at the "Narrows" about 1851. There were others but I am unable to recall their names.

On November 13, 1909, Mrs. J. E. Temple, of Alden, N. Y., daughter of Jacob Underhill Annis, writes a valuable letter concerning her father's genealogy; from which I make the following extracts:
